Message from the President (2022-2023)

Dear CAPA Colleagues,

Greetings! I hope everyone had a great summer. I am very grateful for being able to spend time with my family, visiting several nearby parks and museums, and finally getting to know St. Louis better. I know some of you may have traveled, spent time with your family and children, or just relaxed and enjoyed whatever brings joy to your life and I am great to see you all back.

Since our last CAPA eNewsletter, so many things have happened, are happening now, and will happen in the next couple of months. All programs we have proposed in the beginning of the year took off as we expected. The successful launching and smooth running of these programs are the result of collective and collaborative efforts among the EC, BOD, Education Committee and its subcommittees, Membership Committee, IT subcommittee, and many other committees. I would like to share them with you:

1. Routine and previously established programs:
 - A. The weekly Online Pathology Course runs well with the completion of gastrointestinal and hepato-pancreatico-biliary pathology.
 - B. The monthly special lecture series in LPWFD program had 4 additional excellent lectures: Pathology (Fair) Process Improvement by Dr. Karen W. Eldin, the Digital Future of Pathology by Dr. Richard Cote, and a Discourse on Working in AHCs with Some Practical Observations by Dr. Michael B. Cohen, and Wellness at Sign-Out – Responding to Errors at Work by Dr. Aparna Mahajan.
 - C. Very excitingly, the program of the 8th CAPA Diagnostic Pathology Course has been finalized recently. This course has a balance of depth and breadth of topics. It also aims to familiarize pathologists with molecular pathology in a understandable and tangible way through decoding by faculty who have dual expertise in both anatomic and molecular pathology. The keynote lecture will be given by Dr. Hart, a mentor to many CAPA members. For the first time, a maximum of 17 AMA PRA Category 1 credits is offered through the College of American Pathologists (CAP) and can be claimed upon completion of the educational program. This meeting will also have non-CME events focusing on the wellness of pathologists by featuring two CAPA members who exemplify excellent work-life balance. This meeting will be held on September 10th and 11th via Zoom. This meeting will be free to CAPA members (regular, lifetime, and associate). As of today, about 500 people have already registered for this meeting.

2. Newly established program(s):

A. The monthly subspecialty pathology course for pathologists in China, a joint program between the Pathology Center of Excellence, Zhejiang University School of Medicine and CAPA has been established. The first three symposiums covered prostate pathology, non-neoplastic lung diseases, and liver pathology. These three symposiums drew a total of 15,000 on-line real time attendees from China and other regions and were highly praised.

B. CAPA members will present at the 2022 Guangdong-Hong Kong-Macau-United States Pathology Summit. Five CAPA members will bring their knowledge and share their expertise on soft tissue tumor, bone tumor, prostate cancer, renal cancer and gastrointestinal non-neoplastic diseases. This meeting will be held on September 16th and 17th (US time).

3. Programs in preparation:

A. We are in the final preparatory stage of the first CAPA companion meeting at USCAP with the excellent work by Drs. Xiaoxian Li, Marilyn Bui, and Zaibo Li. This has been a dream for many CAPA members. If we are admitted by USCAP as a companion society, this indicates a huge step for CAPA and its members.

B. We are currently working on 5 CAPA symposiums at the Asian Pacific International Academy of Pathology (AP-IAP) 2023 meeting. This effort is led by Dr. Linsheng Zhang of the Education Committee and Dr. Huamin Wang of the International Collaboration Committee and a working group. The titles of these 5 programs include WHO Updates in Renal and Prostate Tumors, Emerging Entities and Updates of Hematopoietic Neoplasia, What's new in Endocrine, Head and Neck Pathology, Updates on Pediatric, Placental Pathology and Gynecologic Pathology, and Pattern-based Approaches to Non-Neoplastic Liver, Lung, and Kidney Diseases.

The preparation of these educational activities involves multiple steps and phases and is based on an open, transparent, and democratic process. From the origination of the idea to the final stage of execution, many volunteers have spent countless hours on these activities which may seem trivial but make a big difference.

I would like to sincerely thank you all for your valuable contributions! I learned a lot from doing the service work in the past several months. I hope that you also honed your skills, gained new knowledge, and expanded your vision by serving CAPA.

As we move into the fall season, the EC and Board will continue to work on various tasks and we will have updates on some of the programs listed above and other programs. Please use a few minutes to check out the achievements listed in this newsletter, cheer for them, and perhaps send them a congratulation note as well.

Thank you very much for your trust. I hope I have done good things with good intentions and a pure heart.

CAPA Online Education Program Announcement

CAPA education activities now open registration for non-CAPA members

We are pleased to announce that the CAPA educational activities, including the 8th Diagnostic Course and Online Education Program (OLE, Weekend Pathology Lecture Series) are now open to non-members. All CAPA education lectures will be in English. There will be no lectures or discussions in Chinese language. Per the decision of the current Executive Committee. Here are the guidelines:

1. Pathologists or other laboratory professionals who are ineligible to join CAPA can pay to register for educational activities, the annual fee for Online Education Program (OLE) is $80 for 2022-2023. Registration fee for pathology trainees is $25 annually (confirmation of trainee status required). The registration fee for the 8th Diagnostic Course (not including OLE) is also $80. Please visit the following link to pay registration fee (only PayPal accepted):

<https://www.capa-ht.org/registration-for-capa-education-activities>

2. The registration for OLE is renewable annually. Anyone who failed to pay annual fee will be removed from the OLE registration after the one-year term is expired.

3. To prevent inappropriate use of the registered account, pathologist not eligible to join CAPA as a member will require a CAPA active regular or lifetime member to sponsor before registration can be approved. Please provide the name and email address of the sponsor (CAPA member). The Education Committee will confirm with the sponsor via email before approving the registration.

4. The registered meeting link is for one registered attendee only. If we find any registered attendee shares the meeting link with others, or records the Zoom Webinar to share with others, the registration will be removed immediately without refund. The sponsor (CAPA member) will be notified of the inappropriate behavior of the registrant.

The above guidelines are applicable to anyone interested in the CAPA educational activities, not limited to the pathologists who identify with Chinese culture. Please feel free to forward this message to any WeChat group with Chinese Pathologists practicing in China. If there are any questions, please send email to Dr. Linsheng Zhang (lshzhang.md@gmail.com). Any potential problem comes up later will be discussed in EC and/or BOD before we make further decision.
